Preface.

THE ST. LOUIS GUIDE is the outgrowth of a demand for a complete and reliable hand-book of general information about St. Louis and environs, and the publishers have incorporated into the work all useful and authentic information of a character appropriate to the same, compiled from various publications and official sources. It is not claimed that the work will be complete in the beginning, but omissions will be supplied, and changes and alterations made from time to time, until the same shall lack little, if any, useful information pertaining to the city or its institutions.

That a work of this nature is needed can not be doubted, and when perfected, ought to be a benefit and credit to the city and her people. To this end the encouragement and co-operation of the citizens of St. Louis will be a material and indispensable aid to

THE PUBLISHERS.

LAKE AND GROTTO—FAIR GROUNDS.

St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, with its long lines of rail and river pouring their ceaseless torrents of trade and intercourse through an imperial realm of fabulous fertility—stands forth, infused with new life, as the central metropolis of the United States and entrepot of the great Southwest. The old poets described ancient Rome as the center of the world, and it was so for the world they knew. But now, for the boundless New World, nothing less than “St. Louis” can be the center. On every hand is seen the steady march of improvement in architecture, in streets, in parks, and in modes of transportation. In the business part of the city the two and three-story buildings that so long lined its thoroughfares are passing away, and in their places are springing up magnificent structures of stone and iron, towering skyward, with all the advantages of the modern metropolitan style of architecture. Solid blocks of granite ring beneath the iron-shod hoof of the commercial steed, and no more do clouds of limestone dust arise to blind the pedestrian.

St. Louis has long been a city of wealth, but until recently the casual observer would never have suspected it was the abode of scores of millionaires. The residence portion of the city lying west of Grand Avenue now presents as many elegant and luxurious homes as can be found in any city in the country. Real estate in St. Louis has not of late years been affected by the “boomers,” like the adjacent cities, but has always maintained a steady and substantial value that has proven a safe and judicious field for investors, and to-day the realty sales show a steady increase in values that comes as the natural result of supply and demand, and not from the manipulations of the speculators. The business men of the city are as enterprising as can be found anywhere and their constant endeavors to bring St. Louis to the notice of the world are making them famous.

The population of St. Louis is growing very rapidly, and it is confidently expected that the next census will show over 500,000. It is now the fifth city in population, and ranks fourth commercially. Its material improvements in the past have been made almost entirely with home capital, but recently Eastern money has been seeking and finding investment largely in the city. It is noted for its many public and private institutions. The manufacturing interests are great and varied, and these interests in many lines are the largest in the land. The city abounds in beautiful parks, having the greatest park area of any city in the country. The mortality record shows a rate much less than that of other great cities, the location, on three ridges, rising from the Mississippi River, allowing it a most desirable system of sewerage. It is a city of homes, and the unhealthy tenement houses are few and far between. It has the lowest death rate of any city in the Union and deaths from sunstroke are exceedingly rare. Politically the city is about equally divided, hence, the municipal body is seldom controlled by either party for more than one term of office at a stretch.

The city covers a vast area of ground within its corporate limits; Ferguson, Kirkwood, Florissant and suburban towns are sought for summer homes by residents of the city, and efforts are working in the direction of establishing other towns by owners of property within or just beyond the city limits.

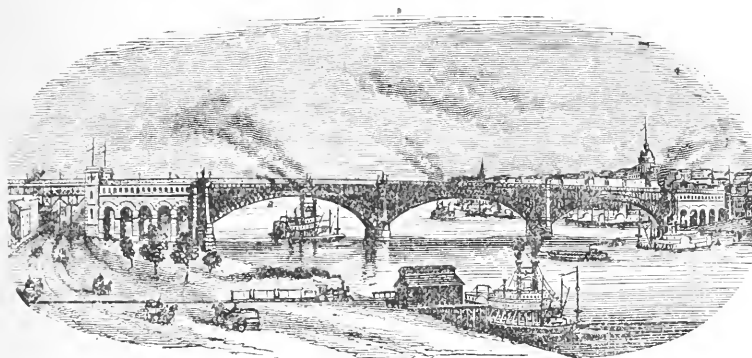

St. Louis being geographically the central city, and having a well-earned reputation for hospitality, is now recognized as the favorite place for conventions and large gatherings of a national character. Since the Democratic Convention of 1876, there have been many large bodies of people from all parts of the country assembled together in the city. Within the past two years it has entertained the National Conclave of Knights Templar and the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. This year it welcomed the National Democratic Convention and gave the freedom of the city to the National German Saengerfest.

The era of rapid transit is now fairly inaugurated in St. Louis. Three cable street railroads are being operated successfully, and bills have within the past year been passed by the Municipal Assembly granting the privilege to nearly every horse-car line in the city to change its motive power. Electricity, with the storage battery, has been tried on some of the roads and will soon be adopted. Although franchises have been repeatedly sought for elevated roads, both electric and steam (one is now pending before the Municipal Assembly), they have been fought so persistently by property owners and surface railroad companies that none has yet reached the Mayor's office for his consideration. It is claimed by owners of property in the central part of the city that elevated railroads would injure them greatly, as they would carry people to the suburbs so rapidly that they would not care to live in the heart of the city.

St. Louis is promised many improvements in the near future. A new City Hall is now in contemplation, while the old Union Depot is to give place to the finest structure for such purposes in the country. JAY GOULD has promised that the depot will be started just as soon as an eligible site can be secured.

The extension of the city's water plant which at present is deemed inadequate to meet the demands of the rapidly increasing population and industries, is being pushed forward, and it is confidently expected that within two years the water supply of St. Louis will be equal to the needs of a population of one million.

The commercial interests of St. Louis are represented by its Chamber of Commerce. This institution ranks with the Produce Exchange of New York and the Board of Trade of Chicago, as being one of the three grandest trade places in the country. The building is six stories high, with 323 feet frontage by a depth of 187 feet, and cost to build $1,500,000. The Merchants' Exchange hall, has no superior in dimensions or ornamentation. It is 222 feet long, 65 feet wide, and 60 feet high. Once a year this busy mart becomes a scene of magnificence; it is the grand ball of the Veiled Prophet. St. Louis is the largest interior cotton market, and one of the greatest markets of the world. The business is largely that of exporting from this to foreign ports. The Exchange building is situated on Main and Walnut streets, covering a quarter of a block. It is five stories high, costing $150,000, and is pronounced the finest building devoted to the cotton trade in the country.

The Mercantile Club of St. Louis is considered to be one of the most important of the city, and its influence is great though its numbers are small. It is composed mostly of millionaires and those having large interests in real estate, banking or mercantile investments. The object of the club is the furtherance of the city's interests. The Commercial Club is one of an association of similar clubs existing in the four or five largest cities. While the Commercial Club ranks high, the Mercantile, which is composed entirely of men in mercantile pursuits, is the most active in numbers and projects. It is really remarkable the number of successful schemes that have emanated from this club's rooms. The Exposition, the Trades' Procession, and most of the enterprises that are calculated to bring the city to high commercial standing and prominence had their inception with the Mercantile Club.

The Exposition Building in St. Louis was erected in the space of one year, at a cost of $750,000, and so successful have its annual exhibitions proven that it is now paying large dividends on the capital stock. The carnival season begins with the opening of the Exposition, and usually continues about seven weeks. The illumination of miles of streets by over a hundred thousand gas-lights, with colored globes, arranged in arches, is a sight to remember. Shaw's Gardens are known throughout the land. They are the most attractive spot in or around the city; they contain fifty acres, and have been willed to the city by Mr. HENRY SHAW, the present owner, who has spent thirty years in bringing this little paradise to its present degree of beauty and perfection.

Looking at St. Louis from all sides, it is a city of magnificent proportions and wonderful resources, and has many pleasant surprises for the stranger. In the past it was sometimes called slow, but at the present period of its history it has the life, the bustle, the progressiveness of the other great cities of the country, and is making rapid strides toward a great future.

AMPHITHEATRE—FAIR GROUNDS.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL ASSOCIATION.

THE Annual Fair of the St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Association is justly celebrated as being one of the most extensive, attractive, and successful exhibitions of its kind, and yearly attracts thousands of visitors from all parts of the continent, as well as large numbers from abroad. The Fair of 1888, October 1st to 6th inclusive, is the twenty-eighth, and which, as formerly, comprises every department of industry, together with an exhibition of live stock unsurpassed by any similar display in the world. The Association annually distributes upwards of $70,000 in premiums. The St. Louis Jockey Club and The Zoological Gardens are departments of the Association, and have proved both attractive and profitable features. The Fair Grounds, comprising 143 acres, is located in the north-western portion of the city, and is rendered easy of access by four horse-car lines, and one cable road, running direct to the gates from all parts of the city. The Zoological department now has a large collection of wild beasts, birds, and other specimens of zoology, unsurpassed by any other similar institution in America unless, perhaps, it might be the celebrated Woodward's Gardens in San Francisco, but of which there is reasonable doubt. This resort is open continually, and every day throughout the year, in good weather, has a large attendance.

A gigantic scheme that is now on foot, with every prospect of being pushed rapidly forward, is the erection on the Fair Grounds of a permanent exposition building, with a vast auditorium, having a seating capacity of 40,000 people. It is proposed to construct the building entirely of glass, iron, and brick, and it will consequently be entirely fire-proof—a point of great importance to exhibitors. It will be 630 feet long by 424 feet wide, and the height from the center of the floor to the roof of the great nave will be 112 feet. This nave will be 120 feet wide; its length from the main entrance to the “drop,” which will separate it from the concert hall, will be 395 feet. When filled with flowers, shrubs, trees, and fountains, as it is intended to be, and lighted at night by electricity, the spectacle will be one of unique beauty and impressiveness. The project is being pushed by Mr. CHARLES GREEN, President of the Fair Association, and the Executive Committee, Messrs. W. R. ALLEN, JAMES SCULLIN, and L. M. RUMSEY.

Within the Fair Grounds is located the finest one-mile race course on the continent, overlooking which stands the palatial edifice of the St. Louis Jockey Club and Grand Stand. At the racing meetings of this club appear all the finest thoroughbred horses of this country.

The officers of the Association are :

CLUBS.

(From Commercial and Agricultural St. Louis.)

 T. LOUIS CLUB, LOCUST STR. AND EWING AV.—This is one of the largest clubs in the city and is one of the few at present owning entire their own buildings and grounds. The club house is a handsome structure built of red pressed-brick with sandstone trimmings, having one grand entrance in the middle front, which leads into a palatial hall. The membership is limited to 400.

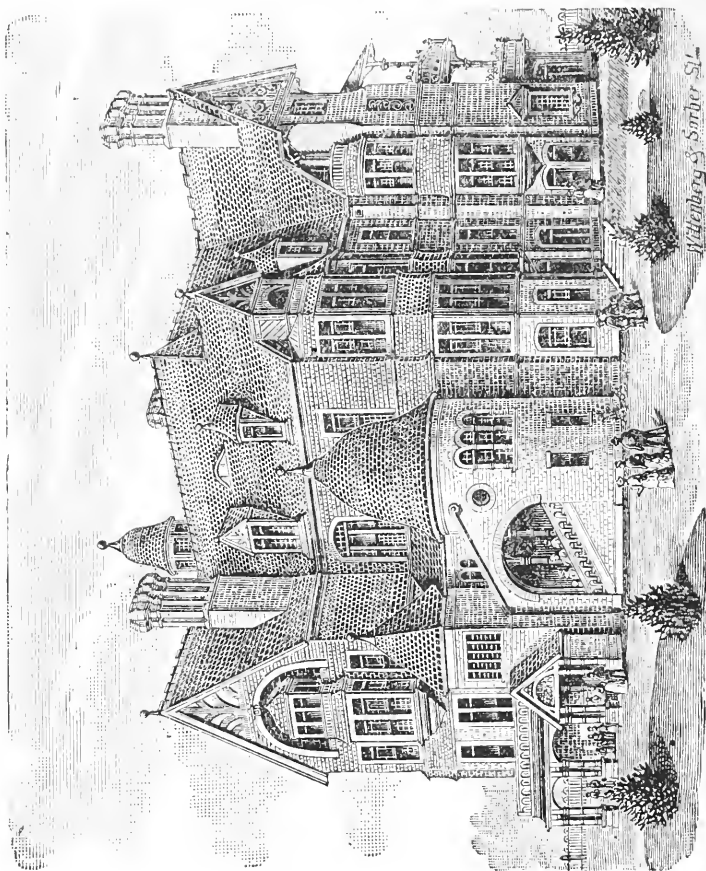

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB PINE AND BEAUMONT STRS. occupies a fine building surrounded by splendid grounds. The club was formed of college men, and they are noted for their hospitable entertainments, especially of gentlemen of prominence who visit St. Louis. Tennis courts are held usually on Saturday afternoons, to which lady and gentlemen friends are invited.

MERCANTILE CLUB, 708 LOCUST STR., is fitted up in magnificent style. Its members include many of the prominent merchants, manufacturers, bankers, etc., of the city, who partake of the splendid cuisine prepared for them by the club management, especially at noon. It has about 400 members who have made its apartments popular for banquets, dinner and theater parties. Their wives and daughters partake of luncheon, in the ladies' drawing room, when down town.

THE MARQUETTE CLUB, GRAND AV. AND PINE STR., was called into existence by St. Mark's Academy, a well-known literary association composed of alumni of St. Louis University. The ultimate purpose of St. Mark's had all along been to develop into an organization like the Xavier Union of New York City, but it was not until September, 1886, that the Academy took the project vigorously in hand. With the able co-operation of representative Catholics of the city the preliminary work was rapidly finished, and the club was organized and incorporated under the title "Marquette Club."

THE ELKS CLUB, PEOPLE'S THEATER BUILDING, CORNER SIXTH AND WALNUT.—The growth of the club finds the place too small and they have negotiated for commodious apartments in the new Laclède building, corner 4th and Olive. Here they will have all the space they require, and the rooms are being put in such shape as to make a most complete club house. The Elks' benefits, which take place once yearly at some one of the principal theaters and at which the different theatrical companies playing in the town at the time appear, is a noted event with play-goers.

ST. LOUIS JOCKEY CLUB, FAIR GROUNDS.—This organization has for its principal purpose, the improvement of the thoroughbred race horse, by providing a race course over which trials of speed are made. The club offers purses aggregating large sums of money, and for which the horses are entered to run, the winner of any race gaining quite a handsome sum. By this means owners of race horses are enabled and encouraged to raise and improve fine horses. The members of the club, like the majority of mankind, are fond of witnessing interesting sports, and have provided themselves the magnificent club house which is located at the racing course of the Fair Grounds, and from whose broad verandas and terraces they have a fine view of the track ; besides this, it is luxuriously furnished, and their social gatherings are held in its spacious apartments.

HARMONIE CLUB, EIGHTEENTH AND OLIVE STRS., is one of the leading club organizations of the city, and is composed of representative Jewish gentlemen. The club house is a handsome building, built and owned by the club, and is furnished sumptuously.

ST. LOUIS BASE BALL ASSOCIATION.—North Grand avenue, Geo. Munson, secretary. This association is the St. Louis representative in the American Association of base ball clubs, and the members of the club or the different members constituting the club's players have for the past three years won the championship of the Association in which there are eight other clubs of nine players each at one time in the field.

ST. LOUIS GUN CLUB.—This is a body composed of representative business men who have their own park for shooting grounds, besides large premises for field shooting, and many of its members are noted wing shots. The objects of the club are to attain proficiency in shot-gun shooting, to protect the wild game of the state so that there may be always an abundance during the season, and to have an outing for recreation and pleasure.

MISSOURI BICYCLE CLUB, occupies the unique building on Channing avenue between Olive and Pine streets. Enthusiasts of the bicycle and tricycle constitute largely the membership. In connection therewith is an excellent gymnasium and good lawn tennis courts. This is the largest of the city clubs, of which there are a number.

KNICKERBOCKER LAWN TENNIS CLUB.—A member of the National Association of Tennis Clubs. Is the largest and most successful club in the west. Has one hundred members, its limit. Five fine courts are within the enclosure, also the club house with baths, etc. Grounds, Locust and Nineteenth streets.

These do not by any means include all of the clubs. There are hundreds of others, some of which are noted athletes in their line, the Hibernia Foot-ball Club and the Thistle Foot-ball Club, both being fine clubs. Cricket, tennis and all other out-door sports and amusements have plenty of advocates and participants.

McCULLOUGH DRAMATIC CLUB, 2621 WASHINGTON AV.—A local organization having among its members some good stage talent, give occasional performances for the benefit of their own improvement and for the entertainment of their friends.

GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING CLUB meets for the transaction of business pertaining to the club and for social purposes at their room, 704 Pine street. The members meet at the driving park or speeding the track of Forest Park, there to enjoy a friendly contest to test the merits of their own horses.

GERMANIA CLUB, 802 S. EIGHTH STR.—This is both a social and musical organization for the pleasure and social entertainment of the members of the club.

MISSOURI SHARPSHOOTERS ASSOCIATION meet at their park, which is a handsome enclosure on Easton avenue, about six miles from the court-house.

ST. LOUIS CHESS, CHECKER, AND WHIST CLUB, 904 OLIVE STR.—The membership is large and is made up of gentlemen of standing in the city.

CONCORDIA CLUB, 1511 CHOUTEAU AV., is the leading Hebrew club of the south-side. They have a spacious building splendidly furnished.

ST. LOUIS RIDING CLUB, 2D CARONDELET AND PARK AVS., is a school of instruction in handling the horse.

ST. LOUIS SHARPSHOOTERS ASSOCIATION, MEET AT TENTH AND MARKET, with occasional outside practice with the rifle.

THE BOHEMIAN SHARPSHOOTERS ASSOCIATION, 1504 S. TENTH STR., meet every fourth Monday.

THE EXPOSITION BUILDING.

THE EXPOSITION AND MUSIC HALL BUILDING.—Is the largest and finest ever used for exposition purposes in the United States, excepting those of the Centennial. It occupies the very central location, bounded by Olive, St. Charles, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets. It is on the old site of Missouri Park, which occupied six and one-fourth acres. The dimensions are 438 ft. in length by 338 ft. in width, 108 ft. high and contains 280,000 feet of space. The building was erected at a cost of $750,000, and in the incredibly short time of one year. It is built of brick, cut stone and terra cotta, with three grand entrances on Olive Street, and one on Fourteenth and Thirteenth Streets each. The first floor is devoted to live machinery; the other floors are devoted to fine displays that have never been excelled. In the center of the building is the largest Music Hall in the country, with a seating capacity of 4,000, and standing room for 2,000 more

The stage is larger than any in New York, and has a full complement of the finest scenery. A grand organ, the finest and largest in the city, is located at the back of the stage. The opening of the Exposition is usually early in September, and continues forty days. Gilmore's Band, sixty-five pieces, plays afternoon and evening; and there is some special feature for each of the forty days. In the building also will be found the Entertainment Hall, with seating capacity for 1,500 persons, beautifully fitted up with all stage and other accessories. On the Olive Street front are the Ladies' Parlors, Exposition Post Office, Cloak Rooms, Ticket Offices, Officers' Offices, etc. The entire building is lighted with electricity. The Fire Department, Boilers and Engine are located in separate buildings opposite, on Thirteenth Street. Admission to Exposition—all displays—Music Hall and Concerts, 25 cents. ST. LOUIS REPUBLICAN CLUB and headquarters Republican Central Committees, 1223 Washington avenue.

PARKS.

FOREST PARK.—This is the largest park in the city and contains 1,372 acres. King's Highway, the eastern boundary, is about four miles distant from the Court House. The general character of the land is undulating, sufficiently to render it picturesque, and the greater portion is covered with a heavy growth of magnificent forest trees; in addition to which, and contributing much to the beauty of the place, is the little but lengthy stream—River des Peres, which, seemingly desirous of tarrying as long as possible in so pleasant a spot, flows sluggishly across the park, traversing more than twice the distance of an air line from its entrance to exit. In many places the banks are high and steep, overhung by a luxuriant growth of shrubbery, while here and there the land slopes gently to the water's edge. About 500 acres of the eastern and northern portion of the park have been highly improved at a total cost to date of nearly $700,000; the improvements consist of gravel drives, well kept lawns, a number of lakes, pagodas and other buildings, bridges, a one mile race course, landscape gardening, etc. The other portion of the park called "The Wilderness" remains in its natural state except in the grading of some of the roads. The total cost of the park exceeds $1,544,000. It is accessible by the Wabash Railway, the Laclède ave. branch of the Market street line, and Missouri Railroad (Olive str. Cable). Lindell ave. Boulevard, at present, is the fashionable and most direct drive to the park, but Forest Park Boulevard, when finished, will possibly be the favorite.

SHAW'S GARDEN.—Is situated in the southwestern portion of the city immediately adjoining Tower Grove Park. It is reputed the finest botanical garden in the world and is therefore one of the chief attractions of the city. It is always open to the public, except Sundays, although it is private property, belonging to Mr. Henry Shaw, one of St. Louis' most public spirited citizens and benefactors. He has devoted many years to the work of beautifying and perfecting this institution which is justly celebrated throughout the world. Among other public spirited acts to his credit should be mentioned the fact that he donated to the city the beautiful tract of land now known as Tower Grove Park. Shaw's Garden is accessible by Market street, Fourth street or Union Depot car lines.

BENTON PARK.—Jefferson avenue and Arsenal street, Missouri avenue and Wyoming street, has an area of 14.30 acres. The monument erected by the citizens to the memory of Col. Fred. Hecker in 1882 is situated in this park; it also contains a good house for the keeper, fine green house and several good row boats for the pleasure of visitors. South St. Louis Ry. or Union Depot Ry.

CARONDELET PARK.—Contains 180 acres and extends about one mile westwardly from Ninth street in South St. Louis, between Kansas avenue and Loughborough avenue. South St. Louis Railway or St. L. Ry. (South Div.)

CARR SQUARE.—Lies between east and west Sixteenth street and Wash and Carr streets, covering 2.36 acres. St. Louis Cable or Western Ry., or Citizen's Cable.

EXCHANGE SQUARE.—Contains 12.86 acres and is situated between Warren, Clinton, First and Main street and the river. St. Louis Ry. (North Div.)

GAMBLE PLACE.—Contains 1.15 acres and is situated between Gamble and Dayton streets and Garrison and Glasgow avenues. Citizen's Ry.

GRAVOIS PARK.—containing 8.26 acres, is bounded by Potomac and Miami streets and Louisiana and Compton avenues. Union Depot Line.

HYDE PARK.—Twelfth and Fourteenth, Salisbury and Bremen avenues, covers an area of 11.84 acres. It is one of our finest city parks.

JACKSON PLACE.—A small circular park that intercepts North Market, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, contains 1.62 acres.

LACLEDE PARK.—Bounded by North and South Gasconade streets and East and West Iowa avenues. 3.17 acres. St. Louis Ry. (South div.) or South St. Louis Ry.

LYON PARK.—Situated between Carondelet avenue and Columbus street, and Arsenal and Utah streets. It contains 10.62 acres. South St. L. Ry. or St. Louis Ry. (South Div.)

O'FALLON PARK.—Contains 160 acres, and is situated about four miles north of the Court House, between Bellefontaine road and Florissant avenue. Benton—Bellefontaine Ry. or St. Louis Ry. (North Div.) and Baden extension.

ST. LOUIS PLACE.—Located at Solomon and Rauschenbach avenue, intersected by St. Louis avenue, and having a length of about 2000 feet between Benton and Hebert streets. Mound City Line.

LAFAYETTE PARK.—Is bounded by Mississippi, Missouri, Lafayette, and Park avenues. It is one of the handsomest pieces of landscape architecture to be found in the United States, not excepting any. During the summer the city provides a band of music for it, and on the days set apart as music days it is thronged with visitors. It is not a driving park, vehicles being prohibited. Among the statues in this park, those of Washington and Benton occupy a prominent place. Take People's Railway, Union Depot Railway (Blue Car) or Lindell Railway (Blue Car).

SOUTH ST. LOUIS SQUARE.—Contains 1.66 acres and is situated in the extreme southern portion of the city. Its improvement as a park only dates back four years, but it is already beginning to be appreciated by the residents of the neighborhood.

TOWER GROVE PARK.—This is a beautiful park, its 276 acres have been laid out in grand drives, charming walks, with perfection of lawns, seldom seen in this country. Three grand bronze statues, thirty feet in height adorn the drives, Shakespeare, Baron Von Humboldt and Columbus. It is convenient to the Market street, Fourth street and Union Depot car lines.

WASHINGTON SQUARE.—Situated between Market street and Clark avenue and Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, contains six acres and has a neat fountain in its center. Cars of the Market street and Union Depot lines pass the park.

The Park area of the different cities of the United States is as follows:

GARDENS.

SCHNEIDER'S GARDEN—CHOUTEAU AND MISSISSIPPI AVE'S.—Open air concerts and comic opera are given evenings during the summer; the entertainments are first class and the gardens are beautiful and inviting. It is withal a popular resort. Washington avenue, Blue Line and People's (4th str.) Ry.; also three blocks distant from Jefferson avenue car line.

UHRIG'S CAFE—JEFFERSON AND WASHINGTON AVE'S.—This has been for several years a popular and successful summer garden theater, producing the latest and most popular of the light operas in a highly satisfactory manner. The place was occupied some years ago by Uhrig's Brewery and from the mammoth subterranean apartment located there for the storage of ice and beer it derived its present name. It is situated on the Jefferson avenue and Washington avenue (Yellow Car) lines and two blocks distant from the Olive street cable.

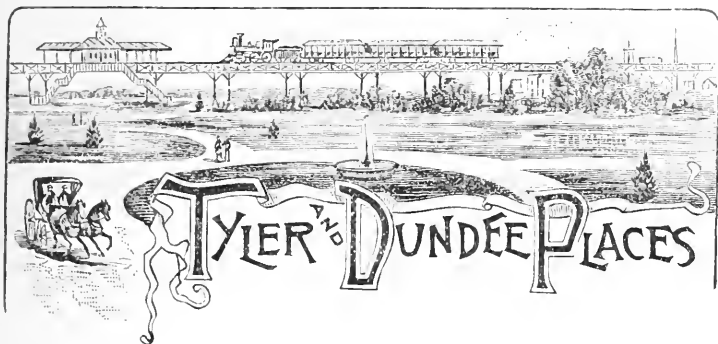

CEMETERIES.

BELLEFONTAINE CEMETERY.—Contains nearly 350 acres. This is one of the most beautiful places in the city to visit. It is in the extreme northern part on a high bluff, overlooking the river, and commands unusually fine views. This is the finest Cemetery in the West. Many of the monuments are works of art, and cost many thousands of dollars. Tickets of admission are required and can be obtained free of charge at the Secretary's office, 302 North Fourth street. St. Louis Ry. (North Div.) and Baden extension.

CALVARY CEMETERY is directly north of Bellefontaine, and is the chief burying grounds of the Catholic Church. The grounds have the same general formation as Bellefontaine, contains 225 acres, overlooking the Mississippi River, and contains many handsome monuments. Visitors are allowed to enter the grounds at all times. Take St. Louis Ry. (North Div.) and Baden Extension.

There are twenty-eight other cemeteries, most of them south of the city, and many west.

TYLER AND DUNDEE PLACES, separated from each other only by a narrow strip of land about a block in width, are situated in the most delightful and fashionable residence portion of the city. Tyler Place is bounded on the north by Tower Grove Park and on the west by Shaw's Garden, while Dundee Place adjoins it immediately on the north, with the exception of the narrow strip above mentioned. With Compton Park on the east, these residence tracts are virtually surrounded by parks, and those too with deservedly national reputations. Their location is in what is known as the Compton Hill district, having an altitude greater than that of any other portion of the city, thus affording a natural drainage and pure and healthful atmosphere, most important considerations in the selection of a home site. The territory surrounding these tracts, for miles around, except that occupied by the parks, is built up and improved in the highest style of architecture.

These tracts are highly desirable for residence sites, not alone for their altitude or proximity to the parks referred to, but on account of their being so easy of access to and from all parts of the city. In fact, no other locality is so well provided with the various modes of passenger transportation. It has the advantage of present rapid transit accommodations by way of the Missouri Pacific, the San Francisco, and the Oak Hill railroads, all of which stop at Tower Grove station, located at the north-west corner of the grounds, from which it is but six minutes' ride to the Union Depot. The Market street car line also terminates at Tower Grove station, and the south-eastern corner of Dundee Place is but one block north of the Lafayette avenue terminus of the Fourth street and Chouteau avenue line, and the same line terminates but one square north of the north-east corner of Tyler Place. Not less than 100 passenger trains on the three roads first above mentioned stop at Tower Grove station daily, while the property may be reached at any time of the night by the "owl cars" running on the two street car lines. In addition, Messrs. S. F.

and T. A. Scott, who represent these properties, have applied for a charter to build and operate an elevated railroad, which will furnish Tyler and Dundee Places with unsurpassed rapid transit facilities, thus enabling residents to go and come at any hour of the day or night from any part of the property to the business centre of the city within the space of fifteen minutes. Besides, this mode of transportation will be a comfort and a pleasure as compared with the present system of passenger facilities.

Tyler and Dundee Places are virtually situated on the great Grand Avenue Boulevard, which, when completed, will extend for a distance of fifteen miles, making one of the finest driveways on the continent. The Grand Avenue Bridge is to be finished about January 1st and will be a massive and beautiful structure, the cost of which reaching nearly half a million dollars. A similar viaduct is also proposed on King's Highway, at the crossing of the railroad tracks, which will likewise add to the means of communication between the northern and southern portions of the city.

TYLER PLACE.

This property has been kept out of the market for several decades by a peculiar combination of family circumstances and not through any fault of the homeseekers, who for years past have had their attention fixed, with yearning anticipation, upon the time when Tyler Place would be rendered available for homesites. In the past few years another impediment, which greatly retarded its development, was found in the fact that while the property lay dormant and unproductive of any income, it steadily enhanced in value until it became so immensely valuable that it required a colossal fortune to handle it, which fact put it practically beyond the reach of the smaller operators.

The only change in its ownership within the past sixty-eight years was made when Col. Samuel F. Scott purchased the property of Mrs. Mary L. Tyler, in May, 1887. Since then it has passed into the possession of the Western Investment and Improvement Co., who have recently contracted for over $200,000 worth of improvements, which consist in the establishment and grading of streets and lots.

It is but a few minutes' drive from any part of Tyler Place to Forest Park, positively the grandest public pleasure ground in the world; and it is in the direct line of travel to and from all the places of public resort, hence it combines the animation of a boulevard with the quiet stillness of a country home.

Tyler Place has been subdivided into forty-eight blocks, containing 1,200 lots of fifty feet front each, and broad commodious thoroughfares established throughout the property.

Restrictive clauses against nuisances, and clauses limiting the use of Tyler Place property to residence purposes will be inserted in every deed.

DUNDEE PLACE.

For the past half century this beautiful piece of ground has been known to the public as the "McRee Tract," and, like Tyler Place, has been faithful to its owners during that period, changing its ownership for the first time in sixty-one years when Col. Thomas A. Scott purchased it in April last of Mr. Wm. McRee.

Dundee Place has been subdivided into twenty blocks, containing about 700 lots of fifty feet front each, and platted for sale. The property has recently been transferred to a company, organized for its management, and which has already contracted for the expenditure of over $150,000 in private improvements, which consist in grading the streets, alleys and lots to the level of the city grade; making gutters, sidewalks, and otherwise ornamenting the grounds.

For homesites, a prettier or more eligible location does not exist within the limits of the city. The neighborhood surrounding Dundee Place is built up with a fine class of dwellings, and property contiguous to it in all directions is steadily enhancing in value.

Dwelling property west of Grand avenue and south of the railroad tracks has increased in value at least from fifteen to twenty-five per cent within the last twelve months. The reason of this is the constantly growing anxiety of our more moderate class of citizens to secure homes of their own, thus increasing the demand for homesites which it is impossible to supply in the more densely populated neighborhoods.

There are at present at least 100,000 of our citizens who are members of building associations or similar organizations, whose sole object in connecting themselves with those institutions was to enable them to provide homes for their families. These people are unrestricted in their selections of localities, and their attention has been attracted to the advantages of Dundee Place. Those also, who wish to obtain homes upon similar terms, but independent of the agencies above referred to, can be accommodated. To such, arrangements have been made whereby homesites can be secured and homes erected by private enterprise upon terms equally as advantageous as those obtainable from any other source.

Owing to the rare advantages offered by the Tyler and Dundee Places for speculative purposes, the management are prepared to offer especially liberal inducements to such as may desire to invest in large quantities, or block parcels.

A map of St. Louis, showing the relative position of these properties to the centre of the city and the parks and public institutions, will be found among the first pages of this book. Further information regarding this property may be had in person or by mail, from Messrs. S. F. & T. A. Scott, S. E. Cor. Eighth and Pine Sts., of this city, who will take pleasure in providing transportation to such as wish to personally inspect the property.

THE PRESS.

THE leading dailies are the St. Louis Republic, the Globe-Democrat, the Post-Dispatch, the Evening Chronicle and the Star-Sayings, published in the English language, and the Anzeiger des Westens, the Westliche Post, the Amerika and the Evening Tribune, German papers.

THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC is the oldest paper in the city, having been established as the Missouri Gazette, in 1808. It took a prominent part in the early history of the city, and its files preserve to posterity many of the interesting incidents of those days. In 1822 the name of the paper was changed to the Missouri Republican; on May 31, 1888, to the St. Louis Republic. It has grown in influence as a representative of Democratic principles and a leader in the counsels of that party. The building on Third and Chestnut streets, occupied by the Republic is the most massive and beautiful of all the newspaper buildings in the city, and was erected at great cost in 1873.

THE GLOBE-DEMOCRAT.—In 1833 the St. Louis Democrat was established, becoming at once a popular newspaper. In 1872 parties interested in the Democrat sold their stock and started the St. Louis Globe, Republican in politics, which soon took high rank as a leading journal. The success of the one drew interest from the other and the Democrat sold its plant to the Globe, the name being changed to Globe-Democrat. The building occupied by the paper at Fourth and Pine streets is hardly commensurate with the paper's growth, but the company, it is said, will soon erect a handsome and commodious structure on Broadway and Chestnut.

THE EVENING CHRONICLE, Sixth, between Market and Walnut sts.—This paper was established July 3, 1880, by a company which also owns the Cincinnati Evening Post, the Detroit News and the Cleveland (O.) Evening Press. It gives the news in a condensed form. In March last the price of the paper was reduced from two cents to one cent.

THE STAR-SAYINGS, 105 N. Sixth street, is the latest addition to the daily press, and is the outgrowth of the Sunday Sayings. It is a bright Sunday and afternoon paper, and independent in politics.

THE POST-DISPATCH, an afternoon daily, is Democratic in politics. This paper has lately moved into a building on Olive street, between Broadway and Sixth street.

ANZEIGER DES WESTENS—Democratic.—This is the oldest German paper in the city, its first number having appeared on October 31, 1835. Third, near Chestnut street.

WESTLICHE POST.—Established in 1857. The paper is Republican in politics, and in all the attributes of advanced journalism is one of the best German newspapers in the land. It owns the building occupied by it, which is at the corner of Broadway and Market street.

AMERIKA.—This (German) paper was established in 1872, and has since enjoyed the favor of a large and increasing circle of readers. The paper is Democratic in politics, and publishes morning, Sunday and weekly editions at its building on Third street, north of Chestnut.

THE ST. LOUIS TRIBUNE is a German evening paper. It especially represents the extreme or stalwart wing of the German Republicans. Located on Chestnut, west of Third street.

THE SPECTATOR, Pine, between Second and Third streets.—A leading weekly of the city, supplying a high grade of literature and news matter pertaining to social life.

THE SUNDAY CRITIC.—A popular family paper, published weekly at Ninth and Pine streets.

THE AMERICAN CELT.—An influential weekly, devoted to the interests of the working class. Office, 208 N. Eighth street.

THE SPORTING NEWS.—Published at Ninth and Market streets. The leading sporting paper in the West, and enjoys a large and growing circulation.

Of other publications in St. Louis there are hundreds, denominational, society, athletic, agricultural, medical, railway, trades, mining, etc.

AMUSEMENTS.

LYMPIC THEATRE:—This is a magnificent structure and conducted in the most approved manner. It is located on Broadway opposite the Southern Hotel, in the heart of the business portion of the city, and accessible by car lines from all residence localities. None but leading attractions appear here.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, Market Street, bet. Broadway and Sixth Streets:—This popular and first-class resort ranks with the best theatres on the continent. The building is large and of superior architecture and is supplied with all the stage appointments and accessories necessary for all modern acquirements. The attractions to be seen at this house are all of the highest grade.

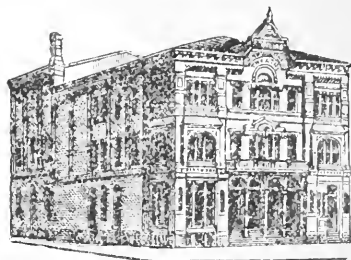

OLYMPIC THEATRE AND GRAND OPERA HOUSE attractions for the season of 1888-9, include The New York Lyceum Theatre Company in "The Wife;" Rice's New York Theatre Company in "The Pearl of Peking;" Robson and Crane in their latest success "Henrietta;" Margaret Mather, Rose Coughlan, Marie Wainwright and Louis James, Rice's "Corsair," Nat Goodwin, Dixie in "Adonis," New York Casino Company, (first appearance here,) The Bostonians in comic opera, Mary Anderson, Fanny Davenport, Coquelin the great French actor in high comedy, The Kellogg Opera Company, Clara Morris, Lydia Thompson, all of Hoyt's plays, and several fine Minstrel companies.

POPE'S THEATRE, Ninth and Olive Streets, Opposite Custom House:—Havlin & Robb, Lessees and Managers, O. L. Hagen, Business Manager, H. E. Robb, Treasurer; seating capacity 2100. This theatre is centrally located and convenient to nearly all horse car and cable lines in the city. It has been newly fitted up in style and beauty unsurpassed by any theatre in St. Louis, with all adjuncts for the proper presentation of any and all performances, operatic, dramatic or spectacular. The interior decorations are superb and the lobby is especially beautiful and artistic in its ornamentation in plastic relief. The orchestra under the direction of Dominick Sarli, is excellent in all its parts. Among the attractions to appear at this house during the winter are: Gus Williams, Kellar the Magician, "Bunch of Keys," Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels, "Siberia," "Stow Away," "Alone in London," Salsbury's Troubadors, Milton Nobles, Hanlon's "Fantasma," Gorman's Spectacular Minstrels, "Lost in New York," "White Slave," and Mestayer & Vaughn.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE, Sixth and Walnut Streets:—Matt E. Ryan, Manager, John Muloney, Treasurer. The People's is a popular family theatre, and derives an extensive patronage from our best citizens.

The attractions are all first-class and include many prominent stars and mammoth combinations, including some grand spectacular productions. The house has undergone a complete change during the summer and has opened its doors for the season, as bright and beautiful as when it first appeared to the public. It is centrally located and convenient to most of the street car lines. Among the attractions for the season of 1888-9 are: "Zozo the Magic Queen," "The Twelve Temptations," "Lights and Shadows," Lizzie Evans, Kiralfy's, "Michael Sendorf," "Michael Strogoff," "Beacon Lights," "My Aunt Bridget," and Little Corrinne Opera Company. Many of the attractions are new and have never appeared in this city.

STANDARD THEATRE, Seventh and Walnut Streets:—Wm. H. Smith, Manager, J. Callahan, Treasurer, J. Burke, Ass't Treasurer, Harry Newbold, Doorkeeper. This popular place of amusement has been refitted and decorated and at the beginning of the season appears bright and attractive in the extreme. It possesses all the paraphernalia necessary to a first-class theatre in these days of brilliant and realistic spectacular stage productions, and has among its attractions many of the leading companies before the public, of which there are fifteen new attractions that have never appeared in this city.

PICKWICK THEATRE, Jefferson and Washington Avenues:—A handsome little theatre utilized for amateur opera and theatricals, concerts, etc., can be rented by the night or week.

EXPOSITION HALLS, In Exposition Building, Olive, 13th and 14th Streets:—Two halls, the larger of which, the Grand Music Hall has a seating capacity of about 4,000; this is used for the grand opera, concerts, conventions, etc. The small hall seats about 1400, and is used mostly for amateur entertainments.

THE LONDON THEATRE, Fourth and Walnut Streets:—Chas. W. Fyre, Manager. The only first-class variety theatre in the city. Prices, 10c, 15c and 25c.

STREETS, AVENUES, & BOULEVARDS.

ABBREVIATIONS EMPLOYED.

Av. for Avenue	E. for East	R. R. for Railroad
Al. for Alley	W. for West	Riv. for River
Blk. for Block	N. for North	Rd. for Road
Boul. for Boulevard	S. for South	Str. for Street
Cardt. for Carondelet	Pk. for Park	St. L. for St. Louis
Cent. for Central	Pl. for Place

The distinction between streets and avenues is made by printing "av." after the names of avenues, and the names of streets without the ending, "str.;" thus: Market, instead of Market str.

Market street and its continuation, Laclède ave. running east and west from the river to King's Highway, almost midway between the northern and southern limits of the city, form the line of division between the north and south, and all streets crossing this line have the prefix "north" or "south" to their names according to their location north or south of it. For instance, that portion of Fourth street situated south of Market street is called South Fourth str., and the opposite end, North Fourth str.

All buildings are numbered with the even numbers on the east and south sides of the streets, and the odd numbers on the north and west sides.

One hundred numbers are counted for each block, beginning at the river and proceeding westward, and the same for each block north and south of Market street and Laclède ave. Thus, 1501 Pine str., would be the northwest corner of Pine and Fifteenth strs., or, had the house an entrance on the latter street, its number would be 201 North Fifteenth str., showing it to be fifteen blocks from the river in one direction and two blocks from Market str. in another.

RATES OF POSTAGE.

First-Class Matter.—Rate—Two cents per ounce, or fractional part thereof.

Letters and all written matter, whether sealed or unsealed, and all other matter nailed, sewed, fastened or sealed in any manner, not admitting of easy examination.

Postal Cards are unmailable as such, with any writing other than the direction on the address side, or with anything pasted or attached thereto, except an address label.

Special Delivery Letters—In addition to the Special Delivery Stamp, should be fully prepaid at letter rates.

Third-Class (Printed Matter).—Rate—One cent for each two ounces, or fractional part thereof.

Must be wrapped so as to admit of easy inspection, and includes Books, Circulars, Chromos, Hand Bills, Engravings, Photographs, Lithographs, Printed Music, Newspapers and other Periodicals not regularly entered as second class matter. Pamphlets, Manuscript with proof-sheets accompanying the same, Reproductions by the Electric Pen, Hektograph, and any other reproductions upon paper by any process except Handwriting, Typewriting and the copying press, not in the nature of personal correspondence.

Weight is limited to four pounds, except for Single Books which are unlimited. Full prepayment compulsory.

Newspapers and Periodicals.—When regularly entered as second-class matter but mailed as transient, one cent for each four ounces, or fractional part thereof. Full prepayment compulsory.

Fourth-Class Matter.—Rate—One cent per ounce, or fractional part thereof.

All mailable matter not included in the preceding classes, which is so prepared for mailing as to admit of easy and thorough examination. Weight is limited to four pounds. Full prepayment compulsory.

Foreign Mails.—Rates for Postal Union Countries, Canada excepted, as follows:

Letters five cents for each half ounce, or fractional part thereof.

Postal Cards two cents each.

Printed matter, Commercial Papers, etc., one cent for each two ounces or fractional part thereof. The minimum charge shall be five cents for commercial papers and two cents on samples.

The weight of printed matter is limited to four pounds six ounces, and the dimensions when addressed to Germany and Great Britain must not exceed two feet in length and one foot in any other dimension.

Weight of samples of merchandise is eight and three quarter ounces, dimensions eight inches in length, four inches in breadth and two inches in depth, except when addressed to France, Great Britain and Ireland, Belgium, Switzerland and Argentine Republic; weight to these countries is limited to twelve ounces, and the dimensions must not exceed twelve inches in length, eight in breadth and four in depth.

Packets of patterns or samples of merchandise for dispatch in the mails to Foreign Countries, are restricted to bona fide trade samples or specimens having no salable or commercial value in excess of that actually necessary for their use as samples or specimens. Goods sent for sale in execution of an order, or as gifts, however small the quantity may be, are not admissible at sample rates and conditions.

Packages or letters containing gold, silver or jewelry cannot be transmitted in Foreign mails.

Canada and Mexico.—Same rates and conditions of transmissions as for delivery within the United States. Samples of merchandise are mailable. Packets must not exceed seventy ounces in weight, and are subject to a postage of one cent each ounce. They must be strictly specimens of goods for sale. Sealed packages other than letters in their usual and ordinary form cannot be forwarded.

Postal Union embraces all Foreign Countries except those given below, to which the rates of postage are as follows:

* Includes Basutoland, Caffraria and Griqualand.

Unmailable Matter.—Poisons, Explosive and Inflammable Articles, Fatty Substances easily liquifiable, live or dead Animals, (not stuffed), Insects and Reptiles, Fruit or Vegetable matter, substances exhaling a bad odor, Ink Powders, Powdered Red Pepper, and all letters upon the envelopes of which, or Postal Cards upon which, Indecent, Lewd, Obscene or Lascivious Delineations, Epithets, Terms or Language may be written or printed, and all matter concerning Lotteries, so-called "Gift Concerts" or other similar enterprises offering prizes, or concerning schemes devised and intended to defraud the public, or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretenses. Confections, Razors and Sharp-pointed Instruments unless properly packed in wood or metal boxes.

Registry Division.—All mail matter except second-class can be registered by the addition of ten cents in stamps to the regular postage.

Registry Division open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., Sundays and Legal Holidays during office hours.

Money Order Division.—Money Orders can be drawn on all important offices in the United States, Canada, Great Britain and Ireland, Germany, France, Algeria, Switzerland, Italy, Belgium, Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland, Tasmania, (Australia,) New Zealand, Sandwich Islands, Jamaica, (West Indies,) and British India, Sweden, Japan, Portugal, Hong Kong, (China,) Egypt, Constantinople, (British Office,) Windward and Leeward Islands, Cape Colony, Japanese Agency, Shanghai, China.

Through the German P. O. Department on Denmark, Norway, Netherlands and Luxemburg.

Through the Swiss P. O. Department on Austria, Hungary and Bohemia.

Money Order Division open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., except Sundays and Legal Holidays.

Special Attention.—No writing is permitted on Third or Fourth Class matter except as follows: The name and address of sender, party addressed and date. The sender is allowed to mark a word or passage in a book to which it is desired to call special attention. There also may be written a simple inscription or dedication upon the cover or blank leaves of a book or pamphlet.

There may be attached to articles of merchandise, by tags or labels, marks, numbers, names or letters not to tell the width or prices, but to identify the articles. Any other writing on Third or Fourth Class matter will subject the same to letter rates of postage.

When mail matter of different classes are combined in the same package, the higher rate is charged.

Mail all matter as early as practicable, especially when sent in large quantities. Work in handling is much diminished if Letters, Postal Cards and Circulars, when mailed in large numbers, are tied up in bundles, with the addresses all in one direction.

Any irregularity in delivery of mail matter or any loss of letters or packages transmitted through the mails, should be reported at this office, where efforts will be made to recover the same.

For any further information inquire at the Post Office.

WILLIAM HYDE,
Postmaster.

BIOGRAPHICAL.

COL. SAMUEL F. SCOTT.

COL. SAMUEL F. SCOTT, the senior member of the firm of S. F. & T. A. Scott, was born near the town of Port Hope, in the Province of Ontario, Canada, in the year 1850. His youth and early manhood was devoted to agricultural pursuits, but being ambitious, energetic, and restive o

COL. SAMUEL F. SCOTT.

the restraints of farm life, he early left his native beath, and, after many wanderings and the usual vicissitudes of a peripatetic life finally settled in Kansas City, 1867, where he engaged in the real estate business in the Fall of that year. His remarkable keenness and foresight at once recognized the possibilities of his new business, and the boldness and success of his operations immediately placed him at the head of the real estate interests of that city.

About ten years ago he opened up the tract now known as Howard and Scott's Subdivision, comprising 34 acres, from which he realized handsomely.

This was followed in turn by the Gilles tract, 240 acres; the Cargile tract, 320 acres; the St. Louis Land Co.'s tract, 440 acres; and the Bales' tract of 33 acres. Altogether, he has placed upon the Kansas City market twenty-three different additions to the town, and the aggregate value of the property he has handled in Kansas City alone in the past ten years is far in excess of $20,000,000.

Besides his Kansas City operations he has been one of the chief factors in the development of Atchison, Leavenworth, Topeka, Emporia, Newton, Wichita, Ft. Scott, Wyandotte, and Argentine, Kas.; St. Joe, Excelsior Springs, and Independence, Mo.; Denison, Dallas, and Ft. Worth, Tex.; and Birmingham and Ft. Payne, Ala.

At present he has branch offices at Ft. Scott, Leavenworth, and Atchison, Kas.; Excelsior Springs, Mo.; and Ft. Payne, Ala. In the Spring of 1887 he was attracted to St. Louis as a field worthy of his attention, the future prospects of which were commensurate with the magnitude of his past operations. After a preliminary examination of the field he entered into negotiations for the purchase of the Tyler tract, which he consummated in May of last year, paying for it the enormous sum of $750,000.

COL. THOMAS A. SCOTT.

The subject of this sketch was born near Port Hope, Canada, on the 16th day October, 1854. Like his brother, he could not brook the monotonies of a country home, and at the age of sixteen started for the home of his brother in Kansas City, where he remained only a short time, returning east again as far as Chicago. There he remained until 1878. In the Fall of that year he again returned to Kansas City, where he located permanently.

The spirit of adventurous speculation seems to be innate in the Scott family, for immediately upon his settlement in Kansas City, Col. Thomas A. Scott interested himself in its real estate values, and soon became the competitor of the largest and most extensive operators there.

No other one man has done so much towards the development of Wyandotte and Kansas City, Kas., as he has. Every deal he has handled has been eminently successful, and are to-day monuments to his genius and perspicacity.

His first conspicuous deal was made when he added Orr's Addition of 20 acres to the town of Kansas City, Kas. This was followed by Fowler's Addition of 5 acres to the same place. He next subdivided Pacific Place, comprising 32 acres, and established the town of Orrville, Kas., of a tract of 47 acres lying about three miles from the Kansas City Union Depot; at which point he built the cement works which he afterwards sold to Charles Francis Adams. He next added Fowler's Park to Kansas City, Kas., and in 1885 subdivided, laid out and improved 1,000 acres of land, about sixteen miles from Kansas City, on the Union Pacific Railroad, to which he gave the name of Bonner Springs. The grounds were laid out in the nature of a park in the centre of which was erected a cozy little hotel of modern architecture. The place was also provided with several places of amusement. The deal involved upwards of $200,000, of which at least fifty per cent was net profit to its originator. His heaviest transaction in the Northwest was the purchase and improvement of 3,600 acres about ten miles to the southwest of Kansas City, Mo., upon which is located the Southwestern University. This deal represented an investment of over $1,000,000, and at the time was considered one of the boldest and most stupendous undertakings ever attempted in that section of the country. Besides his Kansas City investments, Col. Scott is also largely interested in Springfield, Mo. property, at which place he has a branch office of the Scott Investment Co.

Col. Scott's St. Louis operations, are, however, what emphatically stamps him as a phenomenon among real estate brokers.

His first investment here was in the neighborhood of Clayton, where he purchased the Jno. T. Davis tract, of 462 acres, which was followed by the purchase of the Bemis tract, of 84 acres. The two tracts cost him the sum of $536,000, and together they completely surround the town. In May of this year, he closed a deal with Mr. Wm. McRee, whereby he became the owner of the McRee tract, comprising 138 acres, for the sum of $418,000. He next purchased of Mr. Wm. Gibson the property now known as Gibson Heights, containing 96 acres, adjoining Forest Park on the east, for which he paid $320,000. The purchases above enumerated represent an aggregate acreage of 780 acres, and a total investment of $1,304,000.

The methods of the firm of

in the handling of large tracts of land is, to subdivide and improve them, so as to render them desirable as home sites; then place them in the hands of moneyed syndicates, in which they retain a large interest. In this way they have established many street and cable lines, gas works, water works, etc. They invariably grade their properties to the level and make streets, sidewalks, and other improvements.

In June of this year the brothers opened a copartnership office in this city, under the firm name of S. F. & T. A. SCOTT, since when they have done a remarkably prosperous business. Their well known business probity, judgment, energy, and above all, their well merited success, has established for them a reputation among Eastern moneyed men which places at their command an unlimited amount of capital.

HENRY W. SHAW.

Prominent among St. Louis' leading citizens and benefactors is Mr. Henry W. Shaw, who has perhaps done more for the city than any other person. Mr. Shaw is a bachelor now in his eighty-ninth year and enjoys a state of health remarkable for one of his age. He is possessed of great wealth which he has utilized for many years past in good works, both of a public and private nature. His chief work has been the care and creation of Shaw's Garden, a botanical institution that is world famous as being the most elaborate and extensive on the globe. This place referred to elsewhere in this work has been bequeathed to the city by Mr. Shaw, and is not the only thing St. Louis has to thank him for; Tower Grove Park was also a gift of his to the city. Moreover there have never been more willing and liberal contributors to public enterprise than he; foremost in all good works and his name and memory will long be cherished by the people of his chosen city.

PERMANENT EXPOSITION AND ART PALACE.

The engraving shows a perspective view of the grand structure which is to be erected in the Fair Grounds entirely composed of glass, iron and brick, and, therefore, completely fire-proof. The main entrance is to be at the south end of the building, the total length of which, from south to north, will be 630 feet, by 424 feet wide and 112 high at the center. The roof of the central nave is to be a semi-circle truss of glass and iron, which will make the light both in the nave and at the sides, as perfect as possible.

The interior of the nave will contain the stage of the theatre or music hall at the north end and the boxes and balconies on either side of it. These boxes and balconies will open behind on to elegant promenades supported by colonnades and inclosed with brick walls, where the audience can stroll about and meet their friends or where they can have refreshments served in adjacent rooms between the acts or parts of play, opera or lecture. This part of the building, when in use for opera, concert or play, will be cut off from the main nave by a heavy "drop curtain" that will be composed of iron or other incombustible material. The music hall is designed to seat 4,000 people. When, however, as for instance in convention times, it is desirable to provide accommodations for great numbers, the "drop" can be raised and the entire area of the central nave used as an auditorium. In this way 40,000 people can be seated and every one of them can have a perfect view of the stage. No building of similar or anywhere nearly similar capacity is known to exist in the world.

On the right and left of the great nave, which by the way, will be filled with rare and exotic plants, shrubs, and trees, interspersed with fountains and made brilliant with the plumage of tropical birds, there are to be permanent exhibits made by merchants and manufacturers. This will all be placed in the two-story division of the wings. Outside of these and only to be reached by corridors that will bring the visitor past the exhibits will be a series of courts, similar to those in Sydenham palace, in which the architecture and ways of life of all ages and nearly all races will be displayed. There will be a Florentine court, a Pompeian court, Ancient Roman, Grecian, Egyptian and Assyrian courts, courts illustrative of Mexico, China, Peru, Japan, Siam, the East Indian countries, Russia, Ancient England, and, in fact, of all ages and races that can be considered instructive or interesting.

This monster building with its interior courts, stage, exhibition halls, etc., was designed by and will be erected under the supervision of Mr. Thos. Walsh, the architect. Many of the grandest structures in St. Louis are from his designs and were erected under his guidance. The government building, the new St. Louis University group of buildings, the handsome club house and grand stand of the St. Louis Jockey Club, the Republic building and the Chamber of Commerce being a few of them.

THE FALL CARNIVAL.

The season of Festivities in St. Louis commences with the opening of the Exposition, the first week in September, which continues for seven weeks; before the close of which commences, on the first Monday in October, the great annual fair of the St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Association, lasting for one week. During which latter occurs the Veiled Prophet Pageant, The Trades Parade, The Veiled Prophet's Ball, and other brilliant events attracting visitors from all quarters of the globe. During this week also the chief commercial thoroughfares are brilliantly illuminated as shown in the illustration.

PLEASURE RESORTS.

Among the pleasure resorts near St. Louis, may be mentioned the following:

CREVE CŒUR LAKE, Twenty miles west on St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado R. R., and Missouri Pacific R. R. This is a large and beautiful lake, adapted to all sorts of aquatic pastimes. There is a large and well kept hotel at the place, and the lake is supplied with row and sail boats, together with steam yachts and a floating pavillion for dancing. It is a popular and much frequented resort.

MONTESANO SPRINGS, Twenty miles south on the Mississippi River and Iron Mountain Railroad. Here are located springs celebrated for their medicinal properties; in addition the place occupies an elevated site overlooking the river and surrounding country and is picturesque in the extreme. There is a fine hotel at this place and many families from St. Louis spend their summers there, where they can enjoy comparative immunity from the heat and close atmosphere of a city.

LONG LAKE, FISH LAKE AND QUEEN'S LAKE, are situated in Illinois, within an hour's ride by rail from St. Louis, where boating and fishing are very fine. The best fishing, however, is found in the Illinois River where it empties into the Mississippi River at just above Grafton—forty miles north of St. Louis.

Game naturally is scarce within a radius of twenty miles from the city, except on the Islands in the Mississippi River, ten to fifty miles north where ducks and geese are plenty in season and furnish fine sport for gunners.

SUBURBAN TOWNS.

The prominent suburban towns where many St. Louis people have their residences are:

BENTON, Six miles west on the Missouri Pacific R. R.

CLIFTON HEIGHTS, Six miles west on the Missouri Pacific R. R.

WEBSTER, Ten miles west on Missouri Pacific R. R.

KIRKWOOD, Fourteen miles west on Missouri Pacific R. R.

FERGUSON, Twelve miles northwest on Wabash Western Railway.

ALTON, Twenty-five miles north on Mississippi River, Chicago & Alton R. R., Indianapolis & St. Louis R. R., and St. Louis, Alton & Springfield R. R.

CLAYTON, County seat of St. Louis County, nine miles west on St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado R. R.

OLD ORCHARD, Eight and a half miles on the Frisco road, a beautiful suburban town.

WOODLAWN, About twelve miles west on the Missouri Pacific R. R.

FLOISSANT, Sixteen miles northwest on St. Louis Cable & Western Railway.

FAIRVIEW, Nine miles west on the Missouri Pacific R. R., is one of the most picturesque and delightful of the suburban villages. The Manchester road is the nearest drive to the city but it is also convenient to the Clayton road which runs through Forest Park.

BOULEVARDS.

GRAND AVENUE from the Water Works on the north river to Carondelet on the south, when completed, will furnish a complete circuit of the city via the west end.

LINDELL AVENUE BOULEVARD. A double way set on either side with foliage, grass plats, etc., from Grand avenue to Kings Highway (to Forest Park) 100 feet wide with drive way 60 feet wide of Telford pavement. Many beautiful residences border this avenue with a large number in course of construction and contemplated.

FOREST PARK BOULEVARD, 100 feet wide, laid out in park-like attractiveness.

LOCUST STREET from 14th to Grand avenue paved with smooth asphalt and lined on either side with beautiful residences.

PINE STREET from 19th to Grand avenue laid with asphalt paving and handsome residences on each side and its continuation WEST PINE STREET BOULEVARD from Grand avenue which is being improved rapidly and will be in the near future, as part of it is now, the handsomest residence way in the city.

WASHINGTON AVENUE from Jefferson avenue to Grand avenue contains many fine residences and is laid with wood paving.

DELMAR AVENUE from Grand west is another splendid drive among cosy residences surrounded by ample grounds.

VANDEVENTER PLACE, GRAND AVENUE AND MORGAN STREET is made up of a park in which all the residences are palatial. It contains a fine drive of Telford paving.

LAFAYETTE AVENUE from Lafayette Park to Compton Hill, in and around Compton Hill Reservoir, and along Grand avenue in the vicinity, is one of the fine residence districts.

STREETS PAVED WITH WOOD:—Chestnut street and Washington avenue, from Jefferson avenue to Grand avenue, Lucus avenue from Beaumont street to Garrison avenue; Garrison avenue from Locust street to Easton avenue.

STREETS PAVED WITH ASPHALTUM:—Pine street, from 19th street to Grand avenue; Locust street, from 14th street to Ware avenue; Beaumont street, from Chestnut street to Locust street; Leffingwell avenue, from Chestnut street to Locust street; Ewing avenue, from Chestnut street to Locust street; Garrison avenue, from Chestnut street to Easton avenue; Channing avenue, from Chestnut street to Olive street; Leonard avenue, from Olive street to Locust street.

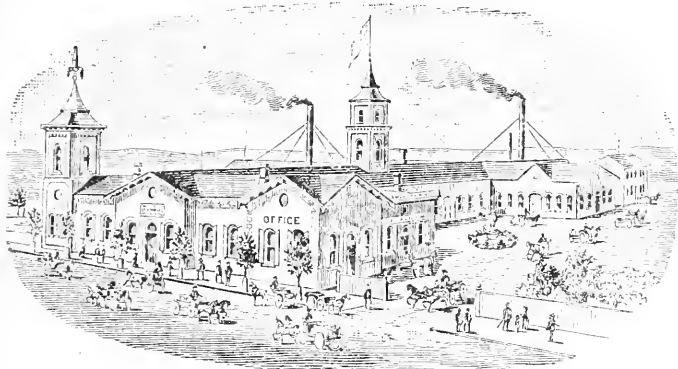

DELMONICO RESTAURANT.

PROMINENT among the beautiful structures that line both sides of the Lindell Avenue Boulevard, is the well known house of public comfort above named. The building was formerly a palatial residence and the grounds surrounding it are beautiful, extensive and park-like. The establishment is kept by Mr. Adolph Kamaerer, one of the leading and most popular caterers in the West, and with his taste and experience he has made his establishment complete and inviting in the extreme, and patronized by the elite of the city. It is a delightful place for those who ride, to stop and slake their thirst with refreshing beverages, or delight their palates with the choice dishes of the Delmonico cuisine. Visitors have not thoroughly done the city without having dined at this popular place.

AMERICAN WINE COMPANY.

HERE are few institutions in St. Louis better known or more justly celebrated for the excellence of their goods than The American Wine Company. The Company dates from 1859 and is the largest wine company in the United States. Mr. D. G. Cook, the president, has a National acquaintance both commercially and socially, and there are few brands of champagnes better known or more highly appreciated by lovers of the article than "Cook's Imperial" and "Extra Dry," which are the specialties of the house in connection with the still wines. Their reputation abroad is most excellent as may be judged from the following, which appeared in the American Register of London, Eng., October 8, 1887, on the occasion of their foreign exhibit:

"Another formidable exhibit is that of the American Wine Company, who are reputed to have the largest champagne vaults in the United States.

Their headquarters are in St. Louis, and they have representatives in London. It was the wines of this company that Lord Chief Justice Coleridge imbibed while in America, and he was so impressed with their purity and excellence, that he introduced them at his dinner parties at home. I have never tried their 'Catawba,' which is one of their specialties, but of their red wines—Burgundy and Claret—I can speak in terms of unmeasured commendation. It is a comfort to believe that grapes enter into the composition of the wine we drink. One of our leading chemists, out of sheer curiosity, has analyzed a bottle of the company's fine claret, and he assured me that in a long experience of 'pulling wines to pieces' he never met any containing so few foreign elements. He cynically explained this by the pleasing hypothesis that grapes are cheaper out West than any deleterious or postiche substance the company could possibly add to their vintages. I am glad to record that the wholesome and beautiful grape plays an important role in these times, when one hears so many wild stories of raisins and currants, to say nothing of the cheerful gooseberry, entering into the composition of French wines."

COMMERCIAL BUILDING.

This modern structure is located on the corner of Sixth and Olive streets. The first two stories are of massive granite from the Syenite Granite Co.'s quarries, and the remaining six stories are of brick from the St. Louis Hydraulic Press Brick Co.'s works.

In every part of the construction the utmost care has been taken to give the building that solidity required in so large a structure and when it is finished it will be second to no office building in the country. The location, together with its splendid architectural effects, magnificent appointments and construction has already much in advance of its completion, secured the owners and many good tenants. Such improvements along Olive street as these already mentioned will create a demand for new buildings, and exercise an influence upon owners of Olive street property to improve.

The general offices of the Wabash Railway occupy the two uppermost stories which are admirably adapted to the requirements of the vast business transacted in the several and various departments.

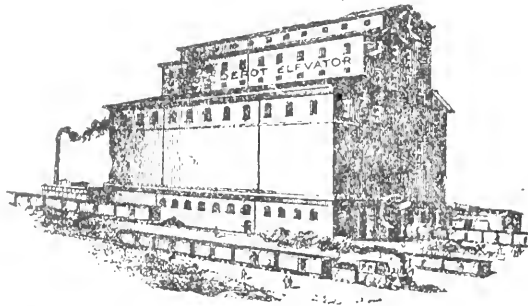

The E. Jaccard Jewelry Company will occupy the elegant store room on the ground floor, fronting both on Olive and Sixth streets. This is a commodious, well lighted and beautifully finished store and when completed and stocked with the elegant line of goods kept by this mammoth jewelry house, will doubtless be one of the finest establishments of its kind in the west.

ELEVATORS.

THE MERCHANTS' ELEVATOR, D. P. Slattery, President, Levee and Florida street. The building was commenced in 1885 and was originally designed to hold 350,000 bushels, but one addition after another has been added until its storage capacity is now 1,300,000 bushels. It is built in sections, the machinery of which can be shut off from the main house and allowed to remain idle during the working of the main part. Economy of the highest value is displayed in this as well as in the fact that it owns and controls its own Electric Light Plant, the lights of which can be shut off instantly from any part of the house not working. This elevator is the most complete institution of the kind in existence and is rated by underwriters at a much lower rate than any other elevator in St. Louis.

THE UNION DEPOT ELEVATOR, 20th and Clark avenue. This elevator is the most centrally and conveniently located of all the elevators, being situated almost directly on the lines of a majority of the railroads coming into the city from the south, west and north. It does a large and prosperous business, making a specialty of barley and handling nearly all that comes to this market.

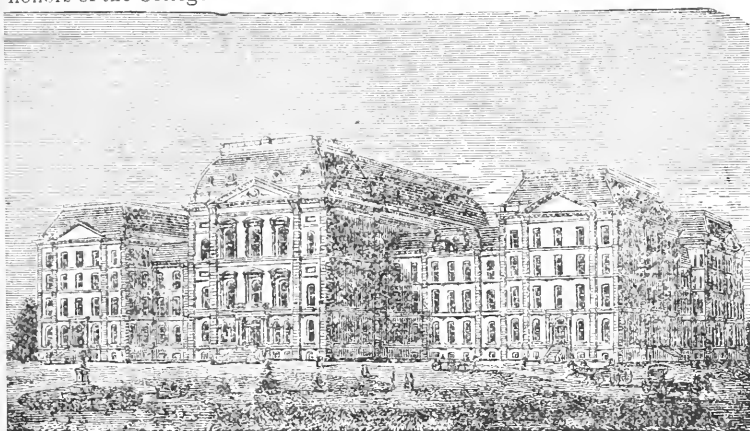

THE ST. LOUIS STAMPING CO., Cass avenue and Second street. The largest manufactory of Granite Iron ware and similar goods in existence. The plant covers two blocks and the products of the institution are used throughout the world. It is therefore a credit to our city and the pride of our people.

COLLEGE OF THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS.

THIS INSTITUTION, conducted by the Brothers of the Christian Schools, has for its object the mental and moral training of students, and affords every facility for acquiring a thorough education. The location, buildings and grounds are not equaled, for educational purposes, by any in the Mississippi Valley. The Curriculum comprises Preparatory, Commercial, Collegiate, Literary and Scientific Courses. The German and the Spanish languages have been added to the Commercial Course as optional studies.

The social culture of the students receives special attention; the Brothers and the pupils form, to a certain extent, a family circle, and dine at the same table. The discipline of the institution, which is constantly maintained, is of a suasive and parental character. Although the Catholic religion is professed and taught in the College, students of other denominations are admitted, provided they are willing, for the sake of order and uniformity, to be present at the public exercises of religious worship. Monthly bulletins are sent to the parents or guardians of the students.

Oral and written examinations are held for promotions and for the honors of the College.

The Session commences on the first Monday in September, and ends on the Wednesday before the last Thursday in June.

HAY, GRAIN, AND MILL FEED.

Every stock feeder should use
CARLISLE'S CRUSHED FEED.

It is made of best inspected grain, and is warranted perfectly sound. It goes one-third further in feeding and is highly nourishing. Horses and mules fed on it never need condition powders, as the digestive organs never become impaired. It never fails to give satisfaction.

Carlisle's Improved Cow Feed,

Is relatively the cheapest food for cows, calves and work cattle known. In cows it adds greatly to the yield of milk; in steers it adds to the strength of the animals; and in both, it produces health, and an improved condition. Dairymen, stock feeders and owners of work steers should try a few sacks of this feed and judge of its merits. Try it and you will be convinced. A list of firms handling the feed will be sent on application.

EXPLANATION.

This table shows upon what day of the week falls the first day of each month. For example, take the perpendicular column headed June, and go downward until the horizontal column containing the figures 1891, in the first or extreme left hand space, is reached. The word Monday will appear in the space where the two columns cross each other. Therefore, the calendar headed Monday, will be the calendar for June, 1891.

St. Louis Tribune.

The Only German Evening Daily with Sunday Morning and Weekly Editions west of the Mississippi River.

— OFFICE: —

312 Chestnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

Acknowledged to be the best Advertising medium and has a larger circulation than any German paper in the West. Published every Evening, Sunday Morning and Weekly, by the St. Louis Tribune Co.

OTTO HILPERT, PRESIDENT,

Auxiliary Printing Done and Stereo. Plates Furnished

To the Advertising Public.

We hereby present to our patrons, the advertising public in general, a few testimonials regarding the great value of the ST. LOUIS TRIBUNE as an advertising medium. These testimonials come unsolicited from firms which spend enormous sums annually for advertising purposes, and have by long experience acquired a thorough knowledge of the value of nearly every paper dealt with. The ST. LOUIS TRIBUNE is by far the best medium of communication with the large German-speaking population of St. Louis and the West.

TESTIMONIALS.

ST. LOUIS, August, 30, 1888.
We have spent considerable money for advertising in the German press of this city for the last ten years. The St. Louis Tribune is one of the most satisfactory German advertising mediums we have struck.

FAMOUS SHOE & CLOTHING CO.,
JOSEPH SPECHT, President,

LOWELL, MASS., July 16, 1888.
We take pleasure in stating that of all German papers west of the Mississippi River in which we have ever advertised, the St. Louis Tribune is the best. We have found this paper as good an advertising medium as any of the leading English papers in that part of the country. For every cent we spend for advertising in the Tribune we received back a dollar.

MOXIE NERVE FOOD CO.,
GEO. P. WALKER, Manager.

CHICAGO, August 25, 1888.
This is to state that our advertising in the St. Louis Tribune has far run above our anticipation, as regards the application for catalogues. We further wish to say that for advertisements of any kind whatever we conscientiously can recommend the St. Louis Tribune as one of the best paying mediums.

FARMERS' & FISHERMEN'S SUPPLY CO.,
18 Market Street, Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 28, 1888
We have used the advertising columns of the St. Louis Tribune and received large benefits therefrom in placing our "Tripoline," "White Diamond," and "Matchless Metal Polishes" in the St. Louis and surrounding markets, and cheerfully recommend that newspaper as a first-class medium to advertisers.

THE MATCHLESS METAL POLISH CO.,
88 Market Street, Chicago.

ST. LOUIS, April 28, 1888.
We have used the advertising columns of nearly every paper in the United States, and have no hesitation in saying that the benefits derived from our advertisements in the Tribune are exceeded by no other paper in the country.
